

Location, location, location! It's proven to be true with Planet Digital's new spot...

Location, location, location! It's proven to be true with Planet Digital's new spot – 701 E. Washington Street, still in the heart of downtown Thornton Park. We celebrated with a fantastic Halloween-themed Open House on October 29th. Upwards of fifty or so of our closest friends, clients, colleagues, and curious passersby even, descended upon our two-story slice of heaven. There were demonstrations going on throughout the night in our various areas of expertise—our video staging area, our graphic design room and our production hub. Everybody always made it back down to the huge assortment of tasty treats and potent beverage deliciousness. What a spread we had! The porch was a tremendous meeting spot as well, particularly since the keg of Yuengling was located there. And there we have it again – location, location, location!!!